BRAVE AND THE BOLD

H TROOP 17TH US CAVALRY
UNIT HISTORY
TROOP H, 17TH US CAVALRY, 198TH INFANTRY BRIGADE

On 10 May 1967, the Department of Defense announced: "A new infantry brigade will be sent to Vietnam". The new unit, the 198th Infantry Brigade, was formed from units of the 1st and 2nd Armored Divisions, Fort Hood, Texas. Of these units from "Hell on Wheels" and "Old Ironsides", H Troop, 17th Cavalry was one.

On 22 October 1967, Military Sea Transports brought the 198th and H Troop to Da Nang on the USS Gordon and USS Upshur. Upon arrival at Da Nang, the troops and equipment boarded LST's and headed for Chu Lai. Four days after arrival, the units became part of the Americal Division.

On the 28th of October 1967, the 2nd Platoon, H Troop, 17th Cavalry, became the first element to begin troop operations escorting a convoy 70 miles south to LZ Carentan where the 198th was temporarily set up. The first and third platoons and headquarters platoon became OPCON to the 196th Infantry Brigade and conducted operations to include bridge security, search and clear, and convoy escort missions.

On 15 November 1967, the troop minus was released from OPCON to the 196th with no contact made during this period. The second platoon at LZ Carentan had taken part in one contact mission channeling the VC force into the waiting guns of the infantry.

On 16 November 1967 the troop moved to its present location on LZ Bayonet taking over the 198th TAOR from F Troop, 17th Cavalry who became OPCON to the 196th Infantry Brigade. On the 21st of November 1967 the 2nd platoon returned from LZ Carentan and brought the troop up to full strength.

On 2 December 1967, two ACAV's from the 2nd platoon moved to secure the Binh Son Bridge with a platoon of popular force troops. At 0130 hours 3 Dec 67 the bridge and District Headquarters came under a mortar and ground attack from six VC companies. The 23 vehicle took a direct hit from a 57 R/R wounding 4 crewmen. SSG Bandy, section leader, was instrumental in thwarting the enemy attack and was awarded the Silver Star for leadership. He was the first soldier in the 198th Infantry Brigade to receive such an award. Five purple hearts were given to the men who were wounded and a Bronze Star with a "V" device was awarded Cecil A. Smith driver of the 23 vehicle for outstanding performance directing the tracks firepower after his track commander was wounded.

On 16 December 1967, the troop was informed that a POW was to lead them to a weapons/ammunition cache. The tracks were lead toward Dong Binh (1) and an extensive area search began. The POW showed the cavalrymen to a tunnel location. After a few frag grenades were tossed, a steel plate covering was forced off of the entrance. The men waited as three men emerged from the hole. The second enemy threw a hand grenade but caused no casualties. He was immediately killed. The third VC attempted to escape and was severely wounded. A fourth VC managed to escape but was also wounded as the blood trail he left indicated. Medical supplies and two machine guns were found in the tunnel. A second tunnel revealed propaganda and flags.
On 21 March 1966, elements of H Troop departed Landing Zone Bayonet for Hill 68 which was to become a fire support base for the 198th. Three 105mm howitzars from the 1/14 Artillery were inserted without incident. On 25 Mar 66, the base came under attack at 2015 hrs from an unknown size enemy force. A recon patrol from the 1/46 Inf. initiated contact just after leaving the perimeter. The 2 hour battle ended with no breach of the perimeter. Only light US casualties were suffered.

Operation Russell Beach starting 13 January 1969 saw H Troop in action again on the Peninsula, 8 miles northeast of Quang Ngai City. This operation saw 12,000 innocent civilians relocated to pacified areas. The combat phase of this operation ended on 9 Feb accounting for 210 VC killed, 59 individual weapons and 6 crew served weapons captured.

On 3 June 1969, on the start of an operation going to LZ Stinson, the 36 vehicle was hit by heavy rocket propelled grenade fire and automatic weapons fire. LT Palmer and his driver were severely wounded taking a direct hit from one of the RPG's. SSG Werner Hunley braved the hostile fire, hooked up the disabled track and hauled it to safety. This action earned him the Silver Star for valor.

On 9 July 1969, H Troop moved to the peninsula area and became OPCON to the 5/46 Infantry. Contact came at about 1300 when the troop was subject to intense rocket propelled grenade and automatic weapons fire. The troop immediately faced the heavy attack and placed accurate return fire on the enemy positions. Many casualties were inflicted on the 5/46 Infantry. Due to the many mines, H Troop was called to transport the infantry to security.

The level of activity subsided from the end of July until the middle of September except for a few minor incidents of sniper fire, etc.

On 25 September 1969 the troop set up a night defensive position in a place later named "Little Bayonet". At 2300 hrs, the insurgents attacked with RPG's and mortars. Flare ships and "Spooky" was called to help ward off the attack. The battle raged for 2 hours with neither side giving any ground. The second platoon leader took two direct hits from RPG's but did not evacuate his position but continued to fight. SSG Holloway on the other side of the perimeter placed effective fire on four VC, winning him the Bronze Star with "V" device.

The next day, 26 Sep 69, saw the third platoon move from "Little Bayonet" to the north. About 2000 meters from their former position they engaged an unknown size enemy force. The 38 vehicle took a direct hit from a 57 R/R fired from the woodline. The platoon immediately put surpressing fire on the enemy positions. LT Paul Weikel called for a Helix who brought three air strikes on the enemy positions. A search of the area revealed a small base camp area with laundry and hammocks still hanging from the trees.

On 26 October 1969, H Troop started the day with a cup of coffee and plans for the day. At 0730 the 3 Platoons split to cover and sweep a large area in the "Horseshoe" area west of LZ Stinson. The 3rd platoon jumped 6 NVA with packs and weapons and opened fire on them killing one and wounding one more. The first platoon immediately moved into the valley just to the north and immediately received sniper fire from a spider hole. The cavalrymen opened up, killing him instantly. A search of the area produced 7 more NVA who were killed by the men. The score went higher when LT Stanley Bulger, XO, spotted an RPG moving in the bushes. Grenades and small arms brought the end of another 2 NVA. Total catch for the day was 11 killed, 3 detained, 10 AK-47 rifles, 1 RPG launcher, 11 RPG rounds, 31 Chicom grenades, and 5 ruk sacks.

On 24 Nov 69, thanksgiving day found H Troop on the peninsula being visited by the Brigade Commander with a turkey dinner with all appropriate trimmings. Combat operations were held to a minimum. After the dinner and the normal day's activities, the troop moved into their NDP. The second platoon spotted movement outside the latrers and sent 4 vehicles to investigate. A search and recon by fire revealed nothing. As they were moving back to the NDP, the insurgents fired an RPG through the perimeter hitting the 35 vehicle. The casualties were minor frag wounds to 6 personnel. It was a Thanksgiving to be remembered by H Troop.

On 10 December 1969, H Troop received 9 new Sheridan M-551 Armored Reconnaissance Airborne Assault vehicles in a ceremony at the 1/1 Cavalry helipad.

On 1 April 70, the first platoon put a scare into some NVA as they were rooted from their noon meal. The action took place in the peninsula area. The base camp invaded contained some "L" shaped foxholes with a built in sleeping position. The troop searched the area finding adequate food and clothing to keep the enemy for several days.

On 29 May 70, the first in over one year. Light sniper fire was the only enemy contact encountered but the 22 vehicle hit one anti-tank mine on this mission killing the driver and wounding the rest of the crew. The remainder of the mission went without incident. The mission consisted of 114 five-ton trucks from 23rd S&T with H Troop escorting. The mission lasted the whole day traveling from Highway 1 to Trabong Airfield, a journey of 22 miles.

On 6 June 1970, the trood pulled escourt for another convoy down Trabong road with incident and with no casualties. The mission saw 60 five-ton trucks loaded with artillery shells complete the mission to Trabong Airfield.

Troop H, 17th US Cavalry is presently assigned to the 198th Infantry Brigade and operates in the Brigade's TAOR. The Troop performs its mission with the goal of finding the enemy and defeating him wherever he is found.

Carmen (Chubby) known for most of the here
I've been over the greatest days you've ever been known

eye out of the field miss you, you're one of the poor and gonna try to see you possible.
and I'll keep making your best buddy

MY PHOTO
Carmen, of the greatest guy I've ever met. I took care of 2nd platoon. I'm back in the world and we're going back to four E.T.'s. I couldn't get messaged up. Everyone can't E.T.'s. If I'm ever up in the band of Smog and Radio extending for 62 days, I'll look you up. I'll stop right out side the city limits when I come to see you. I can't really come out and get me with a gas mask. Best of luck.

Your buddy, short fred.
