REVIEW OF EVENTS
JUNE 1968

GENERAL

Action throughout the month in the Republic was generally light as enemy forces avoided contact to concentrate on training, resupply and receiving replacements following heavy losses suffered during his May offensive.

I CORPS

Throughout the month enemy initiated activity was very light. In Quang Tri Province, lack of contact with elements of either the NVA 320th or 304th Divisions suggested that the divisions withdrew from their respective areas of operation, probably to assimilate replacements and to resupply. At Khe Sanh, however, enemy-initiated activity remained moderate with elements of the 308th Division conducting small-scale assaults on allied outposts. Attacks by fire in the eastern DMZ remained high as the enemy attempted to destroy the logistics complexes at both Dong Ha and Cua Viet. One NVA regiment remained in the Con Thien - Dong Ha area to ambush and to counter Allied sweep operations.

In the coastal zone of Quang Tri Province and east of Phu Bai, rice denial operations inflicted significant casualties on NVA elements. Major enemy forces in Quang Tri and Thua Thien withdrew to traditional base areas only to come under increasing pressure from friendly operations. There, as in the remainder of the I CTZ area, the enemy chose to avoid major confrontations and was forced to abandon several headquarters areas as well as rice and ammunition caches.

In the southern half of I CTZ, terrorist activity increased. In Da Nang the incidents were chiefly aimed at US installations and troops, yet ARVN and GVN facilities were also targets.

To the South, in Quang Ngai, a province-wide propaganda campaign was initiated while terrorist activity was directed against refugee and Revolutionary Development programs.

II CORPS

In II CTZ enemy activity was highlighted by the failure of
B-3 Front forces to initiate a coordinated offensive in the western highlands.

The level of hostilities decreased substantially in the remainder of II CTZ. In Kontum Province, NVA 1st Division regiments were still deployed west of Polei Kleng Special Forces Camp. Enemy activity was characterized by numerous attacks by fire and small unit ground contacts with friendly elements. Also in the Ben Het area, enemy employment of howitzers was confirmed by analysis of the rounds fired on Fire Support Base 29. On 4 June, a US convoy moving along Highway 14 towards Dak To was involved in two unsuccessful enemy ambushes resulting in 12 enemy KIA, probably from the NVA 32nd Regiment and 41 enemy killed probably from the NVA 24th Regiment.

By 10 June a noticeable decline in enemy activity was observed in both the Polei Kleng and Ben Het - Dak To areas as the enemy focused his attention on the Dak Pek Special Forces Camp. On 10 June, a friendly night defensive position near Dak Pek withstood a mortar attack and a subsequent ground assault which succeeded in penetrating the camp perimeter before being repulsed. From 9 to 15 June, the Dak Pek area received 430 rounds of mixed rocket, mortar, recoilless rifle, and B-40 rocket fire. During the third week of June a marked decrease in activity was noted; concurrently, there were indications of an enemy withdrawal from prepared positions around Dak Pek, Ben Het, and Polei Kleng. By early June B-3 Front forces, weakened by friendly artillery and air power, had lost their ability to launch large-scale attacks.

Farther South, in Pleiku Province, enemy activity remained at a low level. Two weapons caches were uncovered near Plei Me Special Forces Camp, and on 19 June, eight kilometers southeast of the camp, a Civilian Irregular Defense Group (CIDG) force engaged an estimated enemy platoon, resulting in nine enemy KIA. The area of contact is a known infiltration route for the NVA 95B Regiment. On 19 and 24 June, friendly forces contacted suspected elements of the NVA 95B Regiment in the Dak Payau River Valley southeast of Pleiku City and also discovered large rice and weapons caches.

On the coast, in Phu Yen Province, a 16 June sapper attack on the naval installation at Vung Ro Bay and a 22 June mining of two civilian vehicles south of Song Cau indicated an increase in terrorist activity. The result of the attacks was 22 civilians KIA.

Along the southern coast of II CTZ, contacts and PW statements confirmed the existence of a Local Force Battalion operating in Minh Thuan Province with the mission of disrupting the Revolutionary Development Program. In Binh Thuan Province, the 482nd Local Force Battalion was identified in contacts from 18 to 21 June near Phan Thiet in which 62 enemy were killed.

In Binh Thuan Province, the 482nd Local Force Battalion was identified in contacts from IS to 21 June near Phan Thiet in which 62 enemy were killed.

Inland, in Lam Dong Province, an estimated enemy battalion was contacted on 17 June southeast of Bao Loc, and on 18 June a weapons cache belonging to the 145th Main Force Battalion was discovered in the same area.

III CORPS

Enemy activity diminished following the mid-June withdrawal of enemy forces from the Saigon area. The enemy subsequently avoided major confrontation while refitting and reorganizing his forces.

In late May and continuing through early June, the enemy committed elements of the Dong Nai Regiment in the Gia Dinh area northeast of Saigon. The attacks were supported by elements of the newly formed Quyet Thang Regiment. During the same period, elements of 2 Battalions conducted attacks in the Cholon section of southwestern Saigon. Activity in the Gia Dinh area diminished rapidly following a 9 June contact approximately three kilometers east of Tan Son Nhut Air Base, where friendly forces killed 72 enemy in a day long battle. Elements of the Dong Nai Regiment were identified in this action. In the southwestern section of the city, enemy resistance collapsed on 10 June with the surrender of 31 enemy, 30 of whom were from a Main Force Battalion. The remnants of both Battalions in and near Cholon subsequently withdrew to the southwest. In a similar mass surrender, 141 VC/NVA soldiers, predominantly from the Quyet Thang Regiment, returned to ARVN control in the Gia Dinh area on 19 June. Subsequent interrogations revealed that the regiment had suffered heavy losses.

To the east, in central Long Khanh Province, elements of the VC 274th Regiment ambushed ARVN forces on Route 20 on 22 June. The enemy regiment sustained 76 KIA in that action.

In other areas of III CTZ activity remained light as enemy elements avoided major contacts. To the south, in Long An Province, friendly forces initiated contacts with two enemy battalions on 23, 24 and 25 June. These engagements resulted in 129 enemy killed. During mid to late June enemy attention was directed at resupply, reorganization, and replacements.

IV CORPS

In the IV CTZ, enemy initiated activity during the month was characterized by harassing attacks and attacks by fire, highlighted by a flurry of activity on 16 June. The bulk of enemy activity was directed against urban areas, friendly lines of communication, and RVNAF installations and training centers.

The early part of the month was marked by heavy contacts between elements of the US 9th Division and the 514th and 261st Main Force Battalions in Dinh Tuong Province. The enemy lost 250 killed and a large quantity of weapons in these engagements. A personal letter, captured in early June and written by a company commander of the 261st Main Force Battalion, complained of low morale, high desertion rates, and the difficulty of operating with 16 year old soldiers.

Enemy initiated activity increased sharply on 16 June as the VC shelled four province capitals, four district towns, the Dong Tam Base, and two ARVN training centers.

To the west, an increase in the number of harassing attacks and attacks by fire in the Seven Mountains area of Chau Doc Province on 17, 18 and 19 June indicated a possible increase in enemy infiltration of supplies through this area.

In another established infiltration corridor, a Delta Blackhawk operation uncovered one of the largest enemy weapons caches ever found in the Delta. The cache, located in eastern Kien Tuong Province, contained over 270 weapons, nearly a half-million rounds of small arms ammunition, and several tons of explosives, mines, and grenades.
SIGNIFICANT GROUND OPERATIONS

225 NORTH VIETNAMESE SOLDIERS KILLED BY U.S. FORCES NEAR DONG HA

On the morning of 27 June the 3rd Battalion, 5th Armored Cavalry, while conducting an offensive sweep near the hamlet of Binh An, 17 km (11 miles) east of Dong Ha, received heavy automatic weapons fire.

Villagers fleeing from the hamlet reported to the cavalrymen that NVA soldiers were hidden there in bunkers. An NVA soldier, captured by the troopers, estimated that at least 200 soldiers were within the village.

By 1330 naval gunfire was placed on the target area by a Task Force off the coast in the South China Sea. The USS Boston fired more than 300 rounds of 8-inch gunfire and more than 640 rounds of 5-inch gunfire into the area. The USS O'Brien fired over 1,390 rounds of 5-inch fire into the enemy positions.

In addition, 26 tactical air strikes were flown by aviators from the 12th Marine Aviation Group and the 366th Tactical Fighter Wing (USAF) onto the enemy positions.

Helicopter gunships from the 229th Assault Helicopter Battalion and the 2nd Battalion, 20th Artillery, fired more than 200 2.75-inch rockets at the enemy.

Artillery support was provided by the 1st Battalion, 6th Marines.

The battalions were provided airlift support by the 229th Assault Helicopter Battalion.

On the evening of the 27th, three companies from the 3rd Battalion, 5th Armored Cavalry (Op control to the 1st Cavalry) were reinforced by a company from the 1st Battalion, 5th Cavalry, a company from the 2nd Battalion, 5th Cavalry, and a troop from the 2nd Squadron, 9th Cavalry, completing a classic horseshoe cordon around the enemy force. Contact was lost at 1945 although the cordon had been established.

During the next two days, elements of the 3rd Battalion, 5th Cavalry, reinforced by engineers, swept the area using APCs and bulldozers. The bulldozers were used to destroy and fill in the enemy bunkers and bunker-trench complexes.

At the end of the sweep 225 enemy bodies were counted. In addition, 38 suspects were detained, and 64 individual and 14 crew-served weapons were captured.

In the three-day action, 3 U.S. cavalrymen were killed and 36 wounded, bringing the kill ratio to: 75 to 1.

IN NORTHEAST I CORPS TACTICAL ZONE, DURING OPERATION JEB STUART III, ELEMENTS OF THE U.S. 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION (AM) KILLED 225 ENEMY SOLDIERS FROM THE 814TH NVA BATTALION IN A THREE DAY BATTLE.

27-2 9 JUNE 1969 - JEB STUART III 1ST CAVALRY DIV (AM)
AIR OPERATIONS

AIR NORTH

U.S. Air Force, Marine Corps and Navy crews struck major lines of communication, SAM and AAA sites, radar sites, railroads, bridges, storage areas, supply boats and other military targets throughout the southern Panhandle.

During the month U.S. Navy pilots flew 1,685 missions over North Vietnam, Air Force pilots flew 1,796, while Marine Corps aviators logged another 317 for a total of 3,798 missions.

More than 600 trucks, 120 bridges, 200 AAA sites and 400 water craft were reported destroyed or damaged. Over 900 secondary explosions were observed.

The weather was generally good throughout the month over the areas of operations.

AIR SOUTH

U.S. Air Force pilots flew 13,898 tactical air sorties in support of Allied ground forces and Marine Corps pilots flew another 6,065 sorties for a total of 19,963 tactical air sorties during the month.

The aircrews reported killing 2,119 enemy while destroying or damaging numerous enemy emplacements and crew-served and automatic weapons positions. Their air-delivered ordnance also resulted in over 800 secondary explosions.

B-52 MISSIONS

Three hundred and three (303) missions were flown during the month by Air Force B-52s. Of these missions, 171 were directed against enemy targets in III CTZ, 24 in I CTZ, 87 in II CTZ, 11 in IV CTZ, and 10 in the DMZ.
NAVAL OPERATIONS

NAVAL GUNFIRE NORTH VIETNAM

Navy ships steaming in Sea Dragon operations off North Vietnam's southern panhandle this month shelled enemy targets in areas below the 19th parallel.

Nine secondary explosions were reported along with eight fires ignited.

Shelling supply routes, Navy ships cratered and cut 10 highway segments. They also destroyed two causeways and a truck park.

Six supply boats were sunk; four were damaged or put out of service.

The shellings also accounted for the destruction of a coastal defense site, an artillery position, and the damaging of two enemy support structures. One landslide was caused.

NAVAL GUNFIRE DEMILITARIZED ZONE

Forty-eight explosions thundered through NVA positions as Navy ships turned their eight and five-inch guns to the Demilitarized Zone.

They leveled 37 bunkers and damaged 15, destroyed three foxholes and a coastal defense battery. Several artillery positions were silenced in scattered missions. Two fires were ignited.

In addition, 30 enemy troops were confirmed killed by shells from Seventh Fleet ships.

Four supply boats were sunk and three cave entrances were crumbled by the cruisers and destroyers. One bridge was collapsed.

NAVAL GUNFIRE SOUTH VIETNAM

Damage to enemy support structures in the South was heavy during June, especially in the Mekong Delta area, where rocket-firing ships—packing six times the firepower of a destroyer—continually blasted enemy base camps and troop areas dotting the region.

In all, 415 enemy fortifications, storage structures or support buildings were destroyed. Another 738 were damaged.

Seventh Fleet units destroyed 142 bunkers, damaged 145, and tore up some 7,245 meters of trench or infiltration line.

Flames engulfed 122 separate areas as the barrages of shells hit their targets.

At a deserted village 13 miles southeast of Quang Ngai, a destroyer leveled 19 structures and damaged 37. The village, abandoned and left heavily booby-trapped by fleeing Viet Cong units, had posed a threat to Allied forces sweeping the area. It was neutralized by the destroyer's guns.

Another destroyer completely demolished a communications complex 12 miles northeast of Nha Trang. The complex was left in flames.

Thirteen enemy soldiers were reported killed by naval gunfire in South Vietnam during June.

Sampans carrying war supplies were also pounded—64 of the craft were destroyed, damaged, or sunk.
