Tom has asked me to say a few words as your newly elected historian.

1st: Is if you need any information write or call me and I'll find out if we have it. If so I'll send you copies. I will pass this copy choice on to you.

2nd: There are 32 crates put in storage by the Navy Historical Branch Section at the Washington Navy Yard. They contain all the original records of HK-3 but no one knows exactly what's there as they have never been cataloged. That is something I would like to be done eventually. It will be an awesome task.

3rd: History comes alive in museums. Naval aviation is fortunate enough to have a wonderful museum in Pensacola. And there was never a squadron that belongs any more in that museum than the Scorpius. And instead of I tell not because we're just another squadron but because we are. And our mission were so unique, so special and so damn good. I promise to you that I will work my hardest to continue.
