PART III

SEQUENTIAL LISTING OF SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

a. Combat Missions Assigned. 3d Reconnaissance Battalion and attached Force Reconnaissance Company, conduct reconnaissance operations, STING­ RAY operations and other operations, as directed, within the division.
area of responsibility. (3d Mar Div LCI # 1-67)

b. Significant Operations Conducted. Units of this Battalion have participated in Operation CHOCAW, CROCKETT, CIMARRON, CUMBERLAND, ARDMORE, FRIMONT, KINGFISHER, HICKORY II, BEACON GUIDE, and BUFFALO.

c. Casualties Inflicted on the Enemy. There have been 75 VC/NVA KIA (Conf), 152 VC/NVA KIA (Prob) inflicted on the enemy during the reporting period.

d. Casualties Sustained. There have been 36 USMC WIA and 3 USN WIA sustained by the Battalion. One scout dog was also slightly wounded.

e. New Techniques Employed. As of 28 July 1967 three scout dogs with handlers have again been attached to this unit.

f. Command Relations. Nothing significant to report.

g. Equipment. Communication equipment tested for possible reconnaissance use includes an auxiliary speaker for the PRC-25 and a VHF radio set to give patrols a ground to air capability. (RT-10) is still being tested.

h. Logistics. Nothing significant to report.

i. Civic Action. All personnel joining the Battalion from CONUS are given a class in the personal response program. One man from this Battalion attended the Division Personal Response School during this reporting period.

j. Administration. Nothing significant to report.

k. Personnel. Twenty radio operators joined the Battalion during July. These operators offset the losses suffered through casualties and rotation during July the scheduled losses for August.
1. Intelligence. July reconnaissance efforts in the Khe Sanh area showed a general decrease in enemy sightings over the May and June levels. There is, however, continuing evidence of east and west movement between the Khe Sanh area and Laos. Trails clearly show usage as well as the bunker complexes to the northwest and west. Bunker construction appears to be well engineered. Contacts have been made with well equipped, armed and trained enemy troops. Sightings of lights and night movement have dropped from May and June levels.

Early in the month the enemy pushed south and southeast toward Con Thien. Reconnaissance patrols screened and supported 3d Marine Division counter efforts. Following the enemy withdrawal to the north and northwest enemy reconnaissance efforts and troop movement was again detected within the DMZ. Substantial activity from Laos in the west toward the Hai Lang Forest in the east was in evidence by the discovery of several large base camps within the Da Nang Valley. Recent area usage showed passage by a large number of people late in July. Within the Hai Lang Forest trail usage continued to be heavy.

East and southeast of the Hai Lang Forest local VC activity has been noted. Trail usage indicates VC may be operating from fairly secure areas within the jungle to avoid US/ARVN operations along National Route 1 and the "Street Without Joy" area. Attempts to patrol from Hill 674 overlooking the Co Bi Thanh Tan Ridge encountered possible enemy OP/surveillance positions in all directions. VC activity in the vicinity of the ridge itself continued to force contact and premature extraction upon recon elements. The CUMBERLAND area and Route 547 continued fairly inactive. Generally light activity running southeast and northwest continued to the south of Hue and Huu Bai. Local VC activity and contact with patrols operating in the general Hue Loc area increased in July, however, a greater reconnaissance effort has been made in this region.

m. Communications. During the month of July numerous radio relays were activated and deactivated or relocated. The radio relay located at Phu Loo, RVN (ZY 08106) was reactivated on 19 July 1967 and again deactivated on 23 July 1967. The relay on Hill 840 (YD 767926) was deactivated on 27 July 1967. The relay located at the artillery position at (YD 716107) was further relocated to the forward fire support base at (YD 620095) to support the reconnaissance teams operating in and near the A Shau Valley.

n. Weather. The month was characterized by generally clear skies with no major problems in the deployment and scheduling of operations caused by weather. During this period the mean maximum temperature was 98 degrees with humidities from 40 to 60 percent. Due to extremely high temperatures encountered on a few occasions by patrols this month, movement was restricted and a few heat casualties were sustained.

o. Fire Support. During the reporting period patrols of this Battalion directed 81 artillery fire missions expending 3746 rounds.
p. Air Support. During the reporting period patrols of this Battalion called 35 fixed wing missions. Helicopter gunship support and med-evacs were utilized several times.

r. Training. Training was and is being held for all newly joined personnel from CONUS in all phases of reconnaissance techniques being employed by this Battalion in the RVN. Training was and is being given on familiarization firing and zeroing of the U.S. Rifle M-16A-1 to all newly arrived personnel. Training has been conducted by the Battalion NBC, NCO. This covered monitoring, surveying, and decontamination of NBC agents. On 6 and 7 July a school was conducted by the 3d Marine Division Engineers for 25 members of this command on VC Land Mine Warfare and Booby Traps. Again on 13 and 14 July, 20 and 21 July, 27 and 28 July, the same school was conducted for 25 additional members each week. The Battalion conducted a Motor Vehicle Weekly Preventive Maintenance class on 15 July 1967 for 17 Marines of this command. Also 6 personnel attended a 50 cal machinegun class for members of the motor transport section.
